Graduation

Did you ever stop to think about the past four years?
Did you ever sit and wonder where the time went by?

And what is going to happen
after graduation?
How many pieces did we find
to the jigsaw puzzle?
Will this refresh our memories
of the past long since lost?

This is our year of reflection.
Find the missing pieces.
And, make your Picture Puzzle
Complete.

FACULTY

Dear Members of the Class of 2002:

Your yearbook and your diploma mark the public signs of recognition for a job well done. You have completed thirteen years of education and graduate as a unique member of the Ipswich High School Class of 2002. By definition, as an educated person, you have obtained knowledge and skills in a variety of areas.

We are pleased to have shared this journey with you. I join your teachers and all the support staff in congratulating you on your success and wishing you the best as you venture forth from the safety and nurturing environment of high school. It is our hope that you are well prepared for the challenges of future educational options or a work environment. Your ability to apply the knowledge and skills is the true measure of success.

This yearbook serves as a compilation of memories and experiences you have had at Ipswich High School. We hope you have enjoyed the richness of our new building, our challenging curriculum and our varied extra-curricular options. Many of the friendships you made will last throughout your life.

You have been a very enjoyable class. You have been cooperative and talented. Your success in athletics, the arts and drama, music and in other areas is duly noted. It has been my pleasure to be your Principal. I wish each of you the very best of luck and good fortune.

Sincerely,

President Ashley DiCarlo, Vice-President Sean Riley, Secretary Molly Cutright, Treasurer Cale Gooby

Our four years together are over. We will leave here with thousands of memories and many new and old friends. Our class has become the tightest and most close-knit class that has ever walked through the hallways of both Ipswich High Schools. We are the only class to win Spirit Week twice during our high school career.

We have had many successful fundraisers including dances, selling fudge hearts for Valentine's Day and Proms. Yet, our class would not have been so successful without the help of our class advisors. Joan DiCarlo and Wilma Gooby have helped our class in so many different ways and without them we would not be where we are today. Thank you for everything.

When we look back at our high school years, always remember the good times and I hope you can say, "I do not regret the things I did, only those I didn't do." Best wishes and good luck with all of your future endeavors.

I never thought that high school would end. When we were freshman I thought the four years would be horrible. It definitely went by faster than I thought. It's going to be weird not waking up and going to good old IHS every morning. I don't know exactly where I will go or what I will do. Hopefully we will all see each other at a reunion someday. Have fun, and don't give up on your goals. Thanks for a great 4 years.

This period is such a confusing point in my life. So many opportunities lie ahead, overwhelming every step forward. The years have come and gone like wood to the flame. All of the memories and experiences exist only in the chapel of my mind. A new door lies open ahead, yet I am afraid to enter. It is now that I realize how far I have come in life and I stride forward with new confidence, empowered by the strength of God by my side.

We have reached the end of our high school road. We will continue on the highway of life to discover who we are. Day by day, what we choose, what we think, and what we do are the people we become. We don't know what the future holds, but we do know who holds it. We will encounter many bumps and potholes on our journeys through life. Keeping our chins up and hearts on our goals we will succeed. What doesn't kill you in life will only make u stronger. It's been an interesting 4 years that I will never regret or forget. Good luck Class of 2002!

FRESHMEN CLASS

We've finished our first year of high school! We made new friends and expanded our horizons, and learned new things. We had tons of fun at our fundraisers and we did awesome during spirit week! We have three more years to look forward to together and I hope we fill them with great memories to look back on. Have a great summer and congratulations to the seniors!

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Class of 2004 is like a daddy long leg spider, whose om is the most potent of all the spiders but whose fangs not penetrate human skin. Unable to take advantage of our en potential we are asteroids drifting through space not to beled as meteorites for millions of years. But one day after eling through light-years of education, past black holes se gravitational pull is so strong its center is reduced to a neter of zero, through worm holes into alternate universes, loring new worlds and seeking out new life, narrowly sing super novas that produce more energy than an entire xy of working stars, organisms and planets straight into the of a possibly inhabited celestial body, we will strike the osphere at around 50,000 miles per hour and hit the surface speed of slightly slower than that. We will create quite a erence on the planet. As the planet falls into an impact ter, blocking out the planets' energy supply and plunging it an ice age, life would slowly fade from the planet. After the settles, the planet will undergo an ultraviolet spring. Due to massive amounts of chemicals kicked into the ozone, ultra et rays usually blocked would go unhindered unto the aining organisms, but amongst the destruction, life will be orn, brought from the farthest reaches of space upon a minor net moving through the sea that is the multi-verse.

If you drop a piece of a neutron star that is equal in volume grain of salt it would fall all the way through the earth . . . uch is the impact of the Class of 2004.

PROJECT ADVENTURE

"What you see here; What you say here; What you hear here; Let it stay here; When you leave here."

Project Adventure combines Physical Education and the Outdoor Adventure-Based Learning Process together in one course. Students learn trust and teamwork through challenging activities. Project Adventure provides students opportunities to overcome fear. Students learn to focus, gain self-esteem, give and receive respect, and manage themselves in difficult situations. Signing the "Full Value Contract" enables students to participate in a safe environment, make and achieve goals, receive honest feedback, and "let go" negative thoughts and feelings.

Yearbook

e 2002 yearbook began in June 2001, continued through the summer, persevered through school year vying against sports, work, college applications and personal lives and will ally culminate in the production of "2002 Pieces" in May. Indeed, there were so many ces to this puzzle. Students did everything from brainstorming to creating, photographing designing, cropping to pasting and typing to proofreading. Ironically, these committed dents spent more than 2002 hours but in the end the pieces came together.

Mock Trial

"Mock Trial is a nationwide competition where students compete against their peers from other schools with the students from Ipswich presenting one side of a case by giving an opening statement, direct examinations, cross-examinations, and a closing argument. The goal of the Mock Trial program is for the students to increase their understanding of the law, court procedures, and the legal system while forcing the students to think quickly on their feet in reaction to the presentation of the other team. This year's court case involved a softball team's star batter being injured by a pitch and trying to determine if it was an accident or an intentional attempt to remove the player from the game."

Rotary Club

otary Club is new this year to Ipswich High School; it is the school branch of the town's Rotary Club. It nsists of eight to ten members who meet once a week to discuss community service projects. We interact h the community and try to make ourselves known throughout town. About once a month, we attempt to ganize a community service project that will benefit members of our town; our hope is to unify the com-nity."

The Tiger Transcript

Written and Edited by Ipswich High School students

This year The Tiger Transcript flourished in its production. Under the direction of Mr. Laakso, students learned about the different components of journalism and news-writing. Students gained valuable experience as journalists as they developed stories, conducted interviews, and put the issues together in preparation for the publication in the Ipswich Chronicle. Working as a team, the staff members learned how to make important decisions on-the-spot and "honed" their writing skills.

National Honor Society

"The National Honor Society was founded in 1921. Its hope was to create an organization that would recognize and encourage academic achievement, while further developing other characteristics essential to all citizens. The class of 2002 inducted twenty members into the Agawam Chapter based upon scholarship, character, service and leadership."

Student Government

"The Student Government meets bi-weekly and is the major student voice in the school decision-making process. The lovely Katie Swan and the handsome David O'Leary, its Co-Presidents, lead the charge in changing the Late Policy this year. has voiced student support and concern over the Breathalyzer issue at several meings of the School Committee and School Council. In its most active year in man its members have been quoted on the front page of the Salem Evening News and the Ipswich Chronicle, and have been guests on the WBach radio station."

Math League

"The math team has grown in numbers this year with tremendous participation from the freshman class as well as continued support from upperclassmen. Returning seniors continued to lead in scoring for the team including Dave O'Leary, Katie Swan, Jack Hewitt, Sam Mollica, Pat Keenan, Scott Green, and Libby Watts. Sophomore Lohith Kini, as in previous years, has both dominated and been recognized as a high point scorer at each monthly meet again this year. Ipswich has placed second, third, and fourth place during the monthly compotitions. Overall, the team has had a great season traveling to other schools, participating in exciting math problems, and chowing down on fantastic snacks."

Science League

Ipswich is back in the NSSL after a one year hiatus. Science League is a contest for schools from the northeastern district of Massachusetts and holds meets once every month. The various topics test the participants' knowledge and creativity, as well as skill in experimentation and design required for any science experiment or test. This contest also has a social component that enables students from different schools to meet and compete against students with different intellectual abilities.

Environmental Club

he Environmental Club meets on Tuesday afternoons, usually from 15 - 3:00. We study the topics of forestry, aquatics, wildlife, and soils n various ecosystems locally. The club may also take field trips to local nuseums and other environmental sites in Ipswich. We also participate n the Environthon, which is an environmental competition in May. Stuents present a researched project on a current issue topic which nanges yearly. This year the topic is non-native invasive species in our local community.

Our Children

And a woman who held a babe against her bosom said, "Speak to us of Children." And he said: Your children are not your children. They are the sons and daughters of Life's longing for itself. They come through you but not from you, And though they are with you, yet they belong not to you. You may give them your love but not your thoughts. For they have their own thoughts. You may house their bodies but not their souls, For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams. You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you. For life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday. You are the bows from which your children as living arrows are sent forth. The archer sees the mark upon the path of the infinite, and He bends you with His might that His arrows may go swift and far. Let your bending in the archer's hand be for gladness; For even as he loves the arrow that flies, so He loves also the bow that is stable.

This is it... my last words in this chapter of my life. First, to my family- I am the human being that I am today because of the encouragement and love that you have given me from day one. Daddy, I'll always be your baby (and don't you forget it!) Katie, I still don't know what to make of you, but thank you for all of the intangible lessons about people that I have picked up from you. Katie Gritz- you have been my best friend when friends are the most important part of my life. I owe so much to your listening ear, the silliness and the sadness, and your consistent example of living life trying to be the best person that you could possibly be. I am so proud to call you my friend. To all of my other friends- you have made my whole life worthwhile. I hope that you remember me and smile. Nick, you have made this time in my life so incredible. Thank you for making me believe that I am beautiful, and for the innumerable gestures of love that make every day special. To all of my Senseis and everyone at Tokyo Joe's- thank you so much for all that you have shown me, you are all my heroes. As for the future... it seems kind of silly for me to ever try to give advice to others, since I am still learning so much myself in the beginnings of my journey. But perhaps the most important and steadfast lesson that I have learned thus far is this: do not ever be afraid that your heart is not strong enough to love. Your heart is a muscle, and, like biceps and hamstrings, it will grow stronger with daily use. Congratulations to the class of 2002, may the future be everything you dreamed it could be. Thank you!
